BEHIND THE SCENES

THE ART OF FURNITURE DESIGN

BETWEEN TRENDS AND CRAFTSMANSHIP

Jürgen Reiter, who founded KARE in 1981 together with Peter Schönhofen, is not only the joint CEO, but as head designer still leaves his mark on every collection to the present day. We had the opportunity to look over his shoulder during the design process.

Jürgen Reiter, you have been the creative heart of our company for over 40 years. What inspires you when you develop new furniture?

JÜRGEN REITER Inspiration can be found everywhere – in nature, in architecture, but also of course at design fairs around the world. Many of our designs are the result of the impressions that I and my team gather on trend-scouting trips. What makes us different from others is that I am personally involved and accompany the design process from the initial idea to the finished product. Many of our bestsellers are my handiwork, from the first sketch to the final collection. For me, it's important that each piece of KARE furniture tells its own story and convincingly combines design and high quality.

You mentioned your team – how do you work together, especially when it comes to new trends?

JR Our team consists of talented designers and trend experts. They keep a close eye on new developments in furnishing and explore people's ideas for making their homes a happy place. The design team scours Milan, Paris, Copenhagen and other major centres for the trends that will shape the market. Translating these international trends into an idiom that fits our unique style and philosophy is the art of furniture design.

The term "hands-on design" plays an important role for you. Can you tell us more about this?

JR For us, "hands-on design" means that we don't just work theoretically at the drawing board or laptop. We play creatively with materials and colours and maintain close personal contacts with our craftsmen and workshops. This is how our know-how and their decades of experience as masters of their trade combine. The results are furniture that inspires with its design, offers impressive functionality and, thanks to its high quality, provides real durability.

How do you manage to tailor the products to regional markets?

JR Our target group is international, and every market has its own requirements. Some regions prefer minimalist designs, while others go for bold colours and striking shapes. To take account of this, we work closely with local partners and trend experts. This enables us to create products that follow global trends, while also being tailored to the cultural characteristics of the individual markets and without compromising on our own design standards.

Jürgen Reiter and Gianni Di Franca create the new collection

"Cultural design treasures, trends in styling and innovative materials all flow into the creative design process. We use them to develop original articles that offer our customers an individual alternative both to faceless mass-produced goods and to pretentious, elitist products."

JÜRGEN REITER

A head full of ideas, skilfully put on paper

In the accompanying illustrations we see you working on the new table lamp Balloon Dance. What was the inspiration for this extraordinary design?

JR The Balloon Dance lamp is strongly inspired by the retro style of the Sixties and Seventies, but with a modern twist. The focus was on organic shapes and soft, flowing lines. The glass shades are intended to remind us of floating balloons, gently dancing in the air. The colours of wine red, green and amber pick up on the warm, earthy colour palette of past decades, which is currently trending again. My intention was to create a nostalgic design that still fits into today's world and adds a special, cosy atmosphere to the room.

What was the creative process behind the production of this lamp?

JR It began with a simple sketch on paper. It is important to me to develop the design by hand first, to get a feel for the proportions and the overall picture. After that I work closely with the glass manufacturers who make the organically shaped glass shades by hand. It was particularly exciting to precisely coordinate the colour shades in order to find the perfect balance between retro charm and modern elegance. The Balloon Dance lamp has been developed not only as a table lamp, but also in pendant and standard lamp versions to meet the different requirements and spaces of our customers.

In times of cheap furniture on low-cost marketplaces, how do you manage to stand out from the crowd?

JR The most important difference lies in our quality standards. We have defined a scale of values for our company that prioritises sustainability and responsible production. Our furniture is made from high-quality, recyclable and durable materials. Regional procurement, certifications and environmentally friendly production are important keywords here. In contrast to bargain price marketplaces, which often rely on fast, low-cost mass production, we invest in sustainable manufacturing processes. This includes not only eco-friendliness, but also socially responsible production. It's not just about design

ABOUT JÜRGEN REITER

Co-founder of KARE Design and head designer since 1981.

You don't just work with your internal team, but also with well-known external designers. Can you tell us a little more about this?

JR Definitely! Collaborations with prestigious interior designers are an important part of our design strategy. They bring fresh perspectives and innovative ideas to our collections. One particularly exciting project is our current collaboration with Karim Rashid, one of the world's best-known designers. This enables us to surprise our customers with something extraordinary, with pieces of furniture that bear the signature of world-famous designers and are guaranteed to turn heads with their expressive, individual flair.

The trend scouting team brainstorming

“A multifaceted mosaic of ideas comes to life on our pinboard. Freehand sketches, furniture models, photos, fabric samples, wood samples, finds from the natural world, colour fans, music videos and lookbooks from the fashion world create a cosmos for interior design fantasies.”

JÜRGEN REITER

and beautiful furniture: we create collections that last for years. Our customers appreciate these values and they know that with every purchase they are investing in quality, craftsmanship and a sustainable future.

Finally, what can we expect from your design team in the future?

JR Wir We've got lots of exciting projects in the pipeline! One area of focus will definitely be the ongoing development of sustainable materials. We develop furniture that is not only beautiful, extraordinary and functional, but also in harmony with the environment. We are also working on new concepts that respond even more closely to the needs of the modern home.

So things will stay exciting!

Inspiration becomes trends, trends become lifelong favourite pieces
